

The Boot Camp

Students completing the entire Boot Camp will receive a back pack and school supplies. You must be present each day of the week. Students may bring with them their personal laptops if they believe they can be responsible for the safe keeping of the laptop. There will not be any place to store personal belongings in the library. Students are responsible for all personal belongings.

A certificate will be presented to each child completing the Boot Camp.

Books are just the TIP of the ICEBERG of what we have to offer you!

9:30 a.m. - READERS CREATE ART PIECES
12:00p.m. The ability to read unlocks a world of possibilities, growth, and imagination. The question is, how many children know that reading is PowerFULL? Reading is a POWER like no other, ARTistically the world can become a visual playground to the avid reader, a creator's paradise if you will. After all, agreeing that the ability to read is magical and key. Kids will be motivated to tap into their powers as bright, confident, and eager creatives. In a team effort the art world's newest paint slingers will produce masterful artworks about what it means to read, the Adventures of a Reader, and the championship life of the World's GREATEST READER!

Department of Archives and History: Alabama Music “Alabama has a rich musical history made up of gospel, soul, the blues, country, and rock and roll. The people of Alabama have made great contributions to all of these genres and more—people like Hank Williams, Sr., W.C. Handy, Nat King Cole, Candi Staton, Dinah Washington, and Lionel Richie. To pay homage to the native Alabamian musicians of yesterday and to the many great artists who came here to record music in iconic studios like Muscle Shoals Sound Studio and FAME Studios. During the program children will dress up like famous musicians, make a craft, read a book, and play several games dealing with music”!
